

David Hare
Associate

I started out as an academic at St. Andrews, Sorbonne and the Open University. Then moved into the corporate world with over 20 years as global PR director for multinationals and became a published author with Penguin Random House. Now an award-winning coach and business strategist with a coaching style which is based on tough love, clear expression and an obsession with helping my clients find their true strengths.

#Coaching #Flow-state #Courage #Confidence #Empathy #Motivation #Clarity